

Responsible Jewelry Council (RJC) Compliance

As a member of the Responsible Jewelry Council and a leader in the precious metal refining and manufacturing industry, United Precious Metal Refining, Inc. recognizes the need to establish and continually improve good business practices.

The RJC sets international standards on responsible practices for diamonds, gold and platinum group metals. The Code of Practices encompasses, but is not limited to the areas of human rights, labor rights, environmental impact, mining practices, and product disclosure.

United PMR continues to engage in responsible business practices through annual training, due diligence, and cooperation with the various compliance agencies in our industry.

United Precious Metal Refining, Inc. is committed to adhering to the RJC's Code of Practices as well as submitting to routine audits that are performed to ensure compliance.

For more information about the RJC please visit the following link:
<http://www.responsiblejewellery.com/>